(ix) The scheme is implemented as a Centrally sponsored scheme on cost sharing basis between the Centre and the State Governments in the ratio of 80 : 20;

(x) Equal wages are paid both to men and women under Yojana;

(xi) District Rural Development Agencies (DRDAs) and Village Panchayats are the implementing agencies;

(xii) Indira Awaas Yojana (1AY) and Million Wells Scheme (MWS) are the sub-schemes of the JRY.

(e) The achievements under Jawahar Rozgar Yojana is monitored in employment generation. State wise position of employment general since inception is given at Annexure-I [See Appendix 75, Annexure 60]

(d) JRY is an ongoing wage employment programme and to make it more effective it is being monitored regularly by the Central and the State Governments through monthly, quarterly and annual progress reports received from the implementing agencies. Besides, the State Headquarters and districts, sub-division and block level officers closely monitor all aspects of the programme through visit to worksites. State Level Coordination Committees (SLCCS) for Rural Development also monitor the progress of implementation of JRY along with other schemes. A representative from the Ministry of Rural Areas and Employment also participates in the SLCC meetings.

In addition, the Government of India periodically convenes meetings with the State Secretaries and the Project Directors of DRDAs/Zilla Parishads (ZPs) to review the programme with a view to effecting improvements in the quality of implementation. The Government of India has also undertaken concurrent evaluation of JRY through independent institutions/organisations to assess its impact in the rural areas in relation to the specific objectives of the programme.

The Ministry of Rural Areas & Employment have also introduced a system of Area Officer during the year 1993-94 with a view to effectively monitoring the various programme of Rural Development including JRY. Under this scheme, senior officers at the level of Deputy Secretary and above have been allocated one or two state(s) each, They are required to visit the State(s) allotted to them and give a feedback on the implementation of the rural development programme including JRY. To give greater attention to the States with higher proportion of rural poor and unemployed, the Area Officers Scheme has further been strengthened w.e.f. 1.1.1994 by including officers from the Department of Programme Implementation, Department of Wastelands Development and the Planning Commission also in the various teams of Area Officers Instructions are also issued to the State Governments/ Union Territories from time to time to ensure that JRY programme is effectively implemented by them.
